

5 Options for Funding Your Treatment Program at an EHN Canada Facility

Paying for your addiction or mental health treatment program can seem overwhelming. However, even if you don't have the money and your insurance coverage is insufficient, you still have a number of different options for funding your treatment. Remember, getting effective treatment and starting your recovery is the most important investment you'll ever make!

Option #1:

PayBright Specialized Loans

- ✓ EHN Canada has partnered with PayBright to offer you specialized loan packages that make it easier for you to pay for your treatment program.
- ✓ PayBright offers lower interest rates than most credit cards and healthcare cards.
- ✓ Please visit PayBright's website for more information: <https://paybright.com/for-customers/>

paybright

You, your family members, and your friends, can each take out a loan from PayBright and combine them together to fund your treatment program.

Option #2

Home Equity Loans

- ✓ If you can offer your home as collateral, you can get a home equity loan.
- ✓ Home equity loans have lower interest rates than personal loans.

Option #3

Personal Savings

- ✓ If you have personal savings, you can use it to pay for your treatment and avoid paying interest on a credit card or a loan.

Option #4

Healthcare Credit Card

- ✓ Some credit card companies offer specialized healthcare cards with lower interest rates than standard credit cards.

Option #5

Crowdfunding

- ✓ Crowdfunding websites such as GoFundMe.com are simple to use—you can easily create a fundraising campaign and share it with your friends and family.
- ✓ You can use a crowdfunding website to create a campaign to raise money for your treatment.

